Skyrim mjoll not giving quest

Just complete a quest called Brelyna's Practice and if you are wearing the Amulet of Mara she will mention marriage to you. THIS GAME CONTAINS CONTENT YOU HAVE ASKED NOT TO SEE: Some Nudity or Sexual Content
Want to update what type of content you see on Steam? She is a Dunmer mercenary and you can find her in the Drunken Huntsman located in Whiterun. Reddit and its partners use cookies and similar technologies to provide you with a better experience. Camilla can also move to your place, but keep in mind that Faendal will still visit her no matter where she is. Orla will provide you with a daily income but she will not leave the temple after the two of you get married. Aeri is a tough Nord lumberjack who inherited a mill from her late father. For instance, you will be able to move into Borgakh's house and live in the stronghold. Beautiful and mysterious, Orla is a Nord priestess serving Dibella, the goddess of love. Aela is located at Jorrvaskr in Whiterun. A Dragonborn has to complete a short quest given by Dravynnea in order to unlocker her as a candidate for marriage. Then start a conversation with her and say that you don't like the Thieves Guild. You will be able to marry Sylgja after completing this quest. She can also continue to be your follower after the wedding ceremony so with Aela you're getting the best of both worlds. If you are just starting out then Uthgerd will prove to be very useful companion. The guy simply refuses to let her go. Do not speak with Mjoll unless you are naked, above level 7 and have consumed at least 3 bottles of skooma. She is an apothecary's assistant who spends her days at the Hag's Cure in Markarth. Sylgja Sylgja is a Nord miner who lives in a small village called Shor's Stone. I'm over level 14, agreed with her about the Thieves guild, and have helped more than 4 people in Riften. What makes Avrusa stand out from other potential wives is her personality and amusing dialogue. Once you complete it you can ask her to marry you. Camilla Valerius is undoubtedly beautiful and she already has two suitors, Faendal and Sven, fighting for her attention. She will remain a loyal follower even after you two get married. So if your heart is set on Borgakkh all you need to do is recruit her as a follower. Unfortunately she also inherited his debt, so Aeri is working hard to pay it off. If you are more concerned about looks then Muiri is the woman for you. If you love fearless women then Ria is definitely your type. I just went to the Black Briar Meadery and did the persuade exploit on the guy behind the counter until I could level up.Thank you! Leveling up once worked and allowed me to get it.i5 4670k 4.5 | EVGA GTX 780 3GB SC | Crucial Ballistic Sport 16GB | 2TB WD Caviar Black | Samsung 840 Pro 128GB | Asus 787-A | SeaSonic 750w | 27" 1440p THIS GAME CONTAINS CONTENT YOU HAVE ASKED NOT TO SEE: Some Nudity or Sexual Content
The developers describe the content like this: Skyrim contains Blood and Gore, Intense Violence, Sexual Themes, Use of Alcohol, and Language. So what do you need to do in order for Brelyna to become your wife? Once again, the Amulet of Mara is necessary before you two can make that sweet holy union. 20. I'm not sure if this is a bug or not, but just let a few days pass and a new dialogue option should pop up when you talk to her. Cozy gfg getting setup in a college just like that. Once Brelyna becomes your wife you two can share her room at the College of Winterhold. You will surely learn how to block properly with Njada's help. So all in all a pretty easy catch. Mjoll comes with a nice perk too similar to many other wives: she will open up a shop and send you 100 gold every day. Toughest part is making the choice! Getting married comes with several perks depending on who you select. But make sure you don't invest in her sister Endarie's shop because the marriage option will disappear. Once she becomes your wife Jordis will open up her own shop. What am I doing wrong?Thanks for the help.The only fool bigger than the person who knows it all is the person who argues with him. Sign Up for free (or Log In if you already have an account) to be able to post messages, change how messages are displayed, and view media in posts.I can't get her to give me the quest to find Grimsever. You need to get her some Frost Salts, and that's basically it. As a follower, Brelyna deals a significant amount of damage to enemies and she cannot be killed by them. To help you decide I've put together this list of the best wives in Skyrim. A Dragonborn can ask for her hand in marriage only once all these crazy criteria are met. As a matter of fact, she can reach up to level 50! Aela is a skilled archer and can use one-handed weapons with precision like you've never seen. Even though her attitude is a bit harsh, she claims it is because of her honesty. I just went to the Black Briar Meadery and did the persuade exploit on the guy behind the counter until I could level up."Looks like I picked the wrong week to quit drinking..."Zague77 posted...I might be wrong about this, but I'm pretty sure you have to level up once before you can get it. You will be asked to retrieve a certain book and you should also have your Amulet of Mara with you. Players that want to get the most of their marriage will find Borgakkh the Steel Heart is the perfect choice with a ton of benefits. For more information, please see our Cookie Notice and our Privacy Policy. Don't let her badass tattoos fool you because Muiri is not very skilled at fighting and can only reach level 6. If you marry her you will get a laundry basket of benefits. You can find her in Whiterun so remember to wear your Amulet of Mara if you are going there to ask Lydia to be your wife. Which seems a bit touchy but hey, she really does not want you hitting on her sister. Mjoll will then give you a quest called Grimsever's Return. And yes, Borgakkh herself is an orc but don't be intimidated by her tough looks. THIS GAME CONTAINS CONTENT YOU HAVE ASKED NOT TO SEE: Some Nudity or Sexual Content
The developers describe the content like this: Skyrim contains Blood and Gore, Intense Violence, Sexual Themes, Use of Alcohol, and Language. After you speak to her the first time, she will not offer the quest until you have leveled up. She is an Imperial pawnbroker living in Riverwood with her brother. If you have your sights set on Orla and you want to wife her up then you need to complete a quest called The Heart of Dibella. For those of you who want to improve their fighting skills Njada Stonearm is a great wife choice. Plus a Dragonborn will get a room in the Hag's Cure that you can share with her. But then I never get the option to say, "I could look for your ... Usually you have to be lvl 14 and a good reputation in riften, since you're level81 just do some quests in riften You can also move into her house and use the items found inside which is a huge bonus. Like all choices on this list, there are a couple of advantages and disadvantages of this marriage. She is a Nord warrior who can wield one-handed weapons and is quite good at archery. Dravynnea is also an expert alteration trainer. Just keep going back and talking to her as you gain levels/do stuff in the game world.i have nearly 90+ hrs since i first talked to her leveled to nearly 67 talked to her every single time i go to riften, which is alot (since i had been doing quests for the thieves guild and that quest has not shown upParachutes are for Girls.I have found somewhat of a fix for this issue if you are unable to get Mjoll to give you the quest. Sylgja is very close to her parents who are also miners and they exchange letters regularly. And a Dragonborn wants someone they can return to at the end of the day. You're browsing the GameFAQs Message Boards as a guest. Keep in mind that you need to join the Dark Brotherhood and complete a quest called the Mourning Never Comes for any of this to unfold. This priestess spends her days in the Temple of Dibella doing various chores. By rejecting non-essential cookies, Reddit may still use certain cookies to ensure the proper functionality of our platform. Once you complete the questline regarding the Companions you can ask her to marry you. Therefore you will not receive the Lover's Comfort when you sleep near her which is a bit of a bummer. No idea what the trigger was, she apparently just needs to be in the mood.it might just be because of the level your on. She is a Nord warrior who prefers melee fights. Besides being really good at making weapons and selling them, Ghorza can be a smithing trainer as well. She doesn't have a home of her own so you will not get a place to live if you two get married. Fun fact: Taarie will start a new shop once she becomes your spouse even though she already owns Radiant Raiment. She works at Radiant Raiment, which is a clothing store located in Solitude. She can be recruited as a follower and can be a marriage candidate as well. By accepting all cookies, you agree to our use of cookies to deliver and maintain our services and site, improve the quality of Reddit, personalize Reddit content and advertising, and measure the effectiveness of advertising. EDIT: Console commands do not disable achievements. But if you want to make your wedding ceremony more jovial you can also complete the Ysolda's Shipment quest. And some of the potential wives in Skyrim can also remain your followers after the wedding ceremony and fight by your side. I've done this a couple of times, even after finishing the thieves guild quest.Joker: "Remember, it's not the fall; it's the sudden stop!"I might be wrong about this, but I'm pretty sure you have to level up once before you can get it. She runs her own forge located in the very heart of Markarth. Powerful and unstoppable, Lydia is a really good follower and life partner. This quest is required if you want to unlock the option to marry Ysolda. That actually makes a lot of sense looking back on it now.GT: Juicifer10My username has nothing to do with Japanese rock and my GT has nothing to do with the band.I heard that you need to raise your reputation in Riften by doing quests there before she'll offer you the quest!CultCryptik posted...I heard that you need to get the quest to recruit her as a ... I talk to her about what she's doing in Riften/Skyrim/whatever and the thing about her losing her sword in a Dwemer ruin comes up. Players who need deadly warriors by their side will be thrilled to discover that Ria knows how to fight, and she does it exceptionally well. This should help you make a choice and tell you everything you need to know about your potential spouse. She owns a house there and earns her money in the Redbelly Mine. I don't know about you but that sounds like a great deal to me. Talk about a sweet allowance! She will also move into the Breezehome and make you a homecooked meal regularly. Dravynnea the Stoneweaver might not be the prettiest wife on this list, but she knows how to help people in need. You will get a whole Khajit caravan as wedding guests, which is super interesting. You can find her at the Bannered Mare inn which is located in Whiterun. Just like her name suggests, Ghorza gra-Bagol is an orc blacksmith. Taarie is a unique marriage candidate because she is the only Altmer who can become your wife. But here comes the tricky part: you have to defeat Uthgerd in a brawl in order to get the option to marry her. She is a great option for players who are at the beginning of their Skyrim journey and need assistance right away. She is a member of the Companions so you can find her at Jorrvaskr in Whiterun, which is their headquarters. If you want to make Camilla your spouse, your Dragonborn has to complete a quest called the Golden Claw. Ysolda is a Nord tradeswoman who hangs around Dragonsreach. Jenassa is an outstanding combatant, highly skilled in archery. The process is very simple actually. If you sleep near Ria you will get the Lover's Comfort which will add a 15% bonus to your skills. Uthgerd is a great character that can tank as well as deal damage to enemies. However she is a package deal, and even if you decide to marry her Aerin is tagging along. All you need to do in order to marry Taarie is complete the quest called Fit for a Jari and invest in her shop. Bear in mind it won't be in the first list of things to talk about. A few days later I was up to 15 and the quest appeared.GT: Juicifer10My usemame has nothing to do with Japanese rock and my GT has nothing to do with the band.I heard that you need to raise your reputation in Riften by doing quests there before she'll offer you the quest!CultCryptik posted...I heard that you need to raise your reputation in Riften by doing quests there before she'll offer you the quest!see Jordis the Sword-Maiden can become your follower, housecarl and wife if you complete various quests in Solitude. Jenassa is both a valuable follower and an amazing wife. When she asks you what you think of the thieves guild, immediately kill Erin and at least ... I play on the PS3 currently leveling a mage-warrior (level 22). Ysolda is polite and treats other characters with respect. GT: jimmyrockstar, PSN: testesbomb---There always seems to be a lot of hidden random criteria that determines whether or not a quest-giver will actually give you a radiant quest, especially ones who can become followers as a result. Recruit her for 500 gold and she will be your companion for as you go on adventures. This is the beginning of a quest called Special Delivery. Players choose to marry her because she is both an outstanding follower and a beautiful girl to wife up. She will offer you a quest called Rare Gifts and you will be asked to find her a mammoth tusk. Those who seek justice are at the greatest risk of losing sight of it.This has happened to a lot of people (myself included) and the only real solution is to wait. The process of getting Jordis is a bit lengthy, and you will need to complete five quests in Solitude as well as a personal request from Jarl Elisif. Keep in mind that she will ask you if you want to move into her house, but even if you agree, Jordis will wait for you at your own place. I've had this trouble with Mjoll, Ahtar, and especially Annekke Crag-Jumper -over the course of one and a half playthroughs I still have not gotten her to give me dialogue leading to her quest.Benefit of Mjoll's quest over the rest is that you may be able to circumvent this by just finding Grimsever first and talking to her afterwards - I think that's worked for me before, but I can't say for sure.Simple questions deserve long-winded answers that no one will bother to read.Maybe it's just glitched. However, she got injured mining so at one part of the game she asks you to deliver a satchel to her father. Her duty is to keep the miners safe by preventing accidents. She has her own apprentice who often annoys her, but Ghorza is patient and willing to teach a thing or two from her years of experience. You need to ask about one of those again (I forget which) and you should see it.That certainly worked for me. Plus you will always be safe and protected whenever you're there. She is a Dunmer mage working in the Steamscoorch Mine located at Kynesgrove, Eastmarch. There are a couple of extra benefits to marrying Aeri, such as the ability to cut your own wood for free since she'll pay for it. If you're high enough level this should be easy enough to complete. Not to mention that she knows how to sneak around without being detected. You will be able to join forces with her fairly early in the game so the two of you can explore the world from the very start. Sign Up for free (or Log In if you already have an account) to be able to post messages, change how messages are displayed, and view media in posts.I met her and told her I hated the Thieves Guild, but a speech option to give me the Grimsever quest doesn't show up. However that doesn't mean you won't get any bonuses. She often visits the marketplace because, well, that's her job. This means she will not be a good follower, like at all. Whatever level you are when you speak to her (don't think there's a minimum it has to be) just level up once, speak to her again and it should be there. Considering that she is a mercenary, you don't have to complete any quests for her to become your follower or wife. Reddit and its partners use cookies and similar technologies to provide you with a better experience. You can marry her once you complete Glory of the Dead. You can find Borgakkh in Mor Khazgur, an orc stronghold. In the console menu type:player:setrelationshipprank 00019DF7 4" What this does is set Mjoll's relation to you at level 4, which makes her able to be your follower, and if you have an Amulet, your wife. Reddit and its partners use cookies and similar technologies to provide you with a better experience. Hope this works for you - I know I'm enjoying my sexy Nordic bodyguard! Never-ending adventures can get exhausting. Avrusa will offer you a quest called Smooth Jazbay and you need to complete it if you want to marry her. But she will open a shop that can be used to buy and sell items. Also worth mentioning Njada is a member of the Companions and you can find her at Jorrvaskr which is in Whiterun. Yes, she doesn't have her own house. Aela is probably the most popular wife in Skyrim for good reason. Mjoll is a very useful follower but she can be a wife as well! She is a Nord vigilante who hangs around at the Bee and Barb inn located in Rifton. Then you can ask Camilla to marry you before anyone else can snatch her up. i didnt get it for ages, when i went back recently it was available! will not be responsible for your stupidity.. If you do decide to marry her, Uthgerd has her own home in the Whiterun's Wind District which is a huge plus. When you bring it back to her you'll get the quest option. Update Content Preferences

The marriage option will be available if you are wearing the Amulet of Mara so it's really one of the easiest wives you can woo. And once she's your wife she gives you that classic allowance of 100 gold per day. Luckily the fight itself is not very complicated, and you can win pretty easily with some preparations, of course. Another possibility is that the quest has a level requirement. You will find Aeri in The Pale and she will give you two simple quests to complete. This means you'll have access to merchants and trainers. Since this bypasses her Grimsever quest I don't know if any long term negative side effects will result with this method, but she follows me now as a follower and wife and I didn't want to have to wait hours of game time to see if maybe the quest would pop up. Lydia can become your housecarl if you complete the quest called Dragon Rising and purchase Breezehome. But Njada is an impressive fighter and will train you to become one as well. If you find yourself at The Rift maybe stop by Sarethi Farm. But before you can ask Ria to marry you, a Dragonborn has to complete the Companions' questline. Once you're done Aeri will become a candidate for marriage. Jenassa will also open up a shop and give you 100 gold on a daily basis so she comes with a whole lot of goodies. I've since become a Thane in Riften and she still won't offer it.i5 4670k 4.5 | EVGA GTX 780 3GB SC | Crucial Ballistic Sport 16GB | 2TB WD Caviar Black | Samsung 840 Pro 128GB | Asus 787-A | SeaSonic 750w | 27" 1440pIf you want, you can find out what ruin it's in and just get it. If you want to marry Mjoll you need to be at least level 14. So if you're ready to settle down there are plenty of ladies to woo. It doesn't matter if you have your own home or not. Want to update what type of content you see on Steam? Aela will then move into your home if asked. Once the wedding is over, Lydia will open her little shop and give you 100 gold every day. When I first got to Riften I was level 9 or 10. All you need is a place to sleep first. Not to mention that you need to buy Proudspire Manor for this one. Brelyna Maryon is a mystic and an apprentice at the College of Winterhold. She will not become a follower during marriage so she will not join into your fights at all. Not all that difficult but you will have to level up first.
