Virginia Frances Trioli (born 16 August 1963) is an Australian journalist, writer, radio presenter and television presenter. She has previously been co-presenter of the News Breakfast television program of the Australian Broadcasting Corporation. Career born in Bendigo, Trioli attended the Donvale High School and graduated from the University of the Trobe in the 1980 degree with a Bachelor of Arts with a specialization in film. He worked as a publicist for a book publisher, then at the Victoria Ethnic Affairs Commission before starting at The Age in 1990. For three years he was president of The Age's Section of the Union, the Australian Association of Journalists (now average, entertainment and alliance arts). Trioli began, but never completed, postgraduate studies at the University of New York from 1993 to 1994, while working as a reporter for The Age, where he worked until 1999. She worked part time for the Packer organization as a columnist in the magazine The Bulletin. Trioli became a radio presenter when she worked at 774 ABC Melbourne in 2001 in the afternoons of the working days, where she shared the Walkley Award of the Journalists' union with the 774 Drive Team. In 2001, she won a Walkley Award for her interview with the former Minister of Defense Peter Reith about the child Children Overboard. In 2005, Trioli moved to Sydney to present the morning program at the radio station 702 ABC Sydney, replacing Sally Loane. [2] After almost two years, she resigned her position on November 9, 2007 focus on the development of your television career. In addition to his radio engagements, he was an occasional commentator on ABC TV's Insiders program. TV. He was a weekly host on Sunday arts. On February 5, 2007, Trioli was announced as the Friday presenter of ABC's Latin news and current affairs program, replacing Maxine McKew. Trioli hosts the questions and answers of the ABC program when its regular guest, Hamish MacDonald, is on a break. Trioli is the author of the generation of F books: sex, power, and the young feminist published in 1996 as a ripening to Helen Garner, the first stone. In 2008, Trioli moved back to Melbourne to start the co-location news breakfast with Barrie Cassidy, Joe O'Brien, Paul Kennedy and Vanessa O'Hanlon. In January 2009, ABC announced that O'Brien would host on Monday to Friday, replacing Cassidy. In May 2010, O'Brien left news Breakfast to work as a news anchor at ABC News 24. It was replaced by Michael Rowland. In May 2019, ABC announced that Trioli would leave that the news breakfast will replace Jon Faine as a morning host at ABC Radio Melbourne. [3] Lisa Millar was announced as the replacement of Trioli in the news breakfast. In his first morning program with ABC Radio Melbourne, Trioli was falsely declared to be the first female presenter of the program, when, in fact, it had been Elizabeth Bond who had hosted the program at the end of the 1970s. [4] Trioli apologized for the error. [5] The personal life Trioli is married to Russell Skelton, who is an age contributory editor [6] and head of the verification unit of the fact of ABC. The couple had their first child in 2012.
