We ship more than one million ICs every day. With more than 40% market share in Bluetooth LE, we are the Bluetooth Low Energy market leader. We used this experience and expanded it to other technologies, like Zigbee. Our devices can be a great choice to base your new product platform on. With different sizes and capabilities our SoCs. The devices are similar to one another which enables excellent code portability between devices. This increases your software reusability and can reliably improve your time to market. Our SoCs can run both Bluetooth Low Energy and Thread/Zigbee/Bluetooth mesh concurrently. The radio time is time-sliced and shared between the protocols. The scheduling is autonomous and maintains connections. A perfect choice for multi-protocol applications. The nRF52 and nRF53 Series SoCs can be re-programmed in the factory or in the field with over-the-air device firmware upgrades (OTA DFU). This enables product updates and feature additions in the field. Our software offering for Zigbee development is the nRF Connect SDK. The nRF Connect SDK is a software development kit for building products based on our nRF52, nRF53 and nRF91 Series wireless devices. It integrates the Zephyr RTOS and a wide range of samples, application protocols, protocol stacks, libraries and hardware drivers. It includes DSR's industry-proven Zigbee 3.0 stack, ZBOSS, optimized for minimal resource usage and high performance. The nRF52840 and the nRF52833 SoC with the nRF Connect SDK are Zigbee compliant platforms, ensuring interoperability according to specification. REX3P is a low-power ZigBee module with high sensitivity and compact in dimension. Based on Rexense innovative RexBee hardware platform, this module conforms to IEEE 802.15.4 specification and ZigBee3.0 protocol standard. It has been widely used in fields of wireless sensing, control and data collection. The application of this module saves users much time and energy in the development.1.2 ApplicationREX3B module conforms to IEEE 802.15.4 specification and ZigBee3.0, supports the mesh network which is self-healing and self-assembling, optimizes the network rate and power consumption. This module supports the setting and configuration as below:l Standard ZigBee 3.0l Transparent transmitting: users can develop according to our AT commandl Customization: we can provide customers with reliable and safe application software according to their specific application.
