A part-time freelance writer who is trying several ways to earn money online.earn $ 15 per hour working from home! If you are looking to work from home as a search engine evaluator, then you're in the right place. Search engines are constantly evolving and improve, but algorithms cannot do all human. That's why jobs like the search engine evaluator exist. Your job would evaluate the results of the research so that the best results are offered to users. In this way you will not only earn money but also helps improve search results. This opportunity is perfect for those who want to work from home and avoid being paid peanuts for their work. The pay is not the best, but it's quite reasonable. Why do search engines need search engine search evaluators? As I mentioned before, algorithms cannot do what humans can do. Algorithms cannot understand the errors made in the text of a website, and do not understand the relevance of research results like humans. An algorithm can cause the contents to position the first page even if there are errors in content or even if it is not relevant. Search engine evaluators examine errors and make sure all guidelines are followed to evaluate the results. They are a crucial part of making the search results improved. Since there are many search results that need to be evaluated, you can expect a good amount of work from this job. Three requirements Here are the requirements for this work. Knowledge of the search skills of current events and pop culture must be willing to work a minimum of 10 hours per week in most cases it can request a university degree need to spend a test or interview fluidity in English what does an evaluator of the engines of Most likely it will be the evaluation of search results from Google or Bing. Most companies work with Google. You will only have to watch specific results and make sure you follow the guidelines. You will be given a time limit to make certain tasks and you will only be paid, paid the time limit given. If you spend more time working on a task, then you will not be rewarded for it. It'll pay off if you become more efficient at your job because the slow workers end up wasting their time. Since you work as an independent contractor, you can be let go without any notice. You have to be careful and not rely on this job to be a full-time source of income. Let us now talk about the implementation process. You will have to submit your application with your CV and then you will be contacted by the company if you are interested. Once you have received confirmation that the company is interested, you will have one week to prepare the qualification tests. In order to prepare the test it is necessary to pass through the guidelines of evaluation of the research quality. You can find the guidelines by Google. Of course, you won't need to go through Google guidelines if you're going to work for Bing. How much can I earn? In most cases, you can earn in the $12-15 range for now. This is not the maximum, but it is a reasonable amount. According to Glassdoor, the average national salary of a search engine assessor is $36881 in the United States. This estimate is based on the entries submitted by evaluators 240. Payment is based on your country, so someone from India will earn less. In most cases, someone from India will earn half of what some in the United States would earn. ProsYou can do this work from the comfort of your home. You don't have to have special skills. The pay is good. You can work according to your convenience even if you may need to work on certain days. Prisoners have to work for a minimum number of hours. It can be a bit difficult to follow your hours. Sometimes, you may not be able to find work. Where to find research engine evaluation work? there are some trustworthy companies where you can find evaluator jobs. RaterLabs/Leapforce/AppenAppen has purchased Leapforce, which is another company that offered Engine evaluator job. RaterLabs and Leapforce addresses you directly to Appen. Appen offers opportunities in different languages and countries. You cannot work on the results of English research in all countries. For example, you can only work on the results of Spanish research in Mexico. Job opportunities are not available in most countries, only in countries 43 when writing this. You will have to pass a language assessment test before working on tasks that require fluidity in a language other than English. All other requirements are quite common for this work, so I will not mention them here. LionbridgeLionbridge calling Search Engine Evaluators Internet Assessors. Like Appen, jobs are available in different countries and in different languages. You just have to select your country to see the available positions. The application process will require you to send your personal data and to list the places where you have worked for the last five years. You will also need to provide information about your educational qualifications and upload your CV. Finally, after answering some questions and validating the version/model of your mobile phone, you can submit the application. Payment to Lionbridge is in the range of $13-$16. The typical pay for now is $15, which is a little better than some other companies. In theory, you can earn $16 an hour, but I don't think you'll earn that much in most cases. You should expect to earn $15 an hour if you live in the United States or in some European countries. iSoftStoneiSoftStone does not offer many jobs. You might have to wait a while before you find a job in your country, sometimes years. The requirements are very similar to other companies, but you have to work in a range of ten hours a week. So, you should be sure to have at least ten hours of free time in any The great advantage of working for this company is You will receive on-the-job training. So, you won't need any experience to work for this company. Pay starts at $13 an hour, but can go up. iSoftStone works with Bing, while other companies work with Google. You will need a Windows-based personal computer or laptop to work on this website. GoogleGoogle may provide internet appraisal jobs, but you won't find such opportunities all the time. You will have to be patient and watch Google's career page from time to time. This work is called "advisor quality ads" by Google. The pay should be decent, but I don't have the exact numbers. You will also be required to sign a confidentiality agreement and work a certain number of hours in a week. Important tipYou can't work for two companies working with the same client. Because Lionbridge, Appen, Leapforce, RaterLabs and ZeroChaos work with Google, you can only work for one of these companies at any time. I recommend Appen/Leapforce/RaterLabs because you should be able to easily find a job. You can work for iSoftStone while working for any of the above companies, because their client is Bing. You will not get into any difficulties this way. Final thoughtsI honestly think that search engine evaluator jobs are worthwhile if you are getting a job that pays well. You can work from home as one while doing a full-time job. This should only be a part-time source of income because it is too risky to rely on it full-time. The first rule of online work is to avoid putting all the eggs in one basket. You must have more than one source of income if you are trying to make a living working online. I suggest starting a blog while working as an evaluator or doing other freelance writing jobs. The advantage of blogging is that it can allow you to money without working every single day if you work hard in the first months or years. There is no guarantee that you will do well, but it is possible to earn thousands of dollars a month if you are And smart. This kind of work requires applying your brain, so it should satisfy those looking for a more challenging job. It can be boring when you look at the search results every single day. I suggest you take as many breaks as you need to keep things interesting. If you found this article useful, please share it. If you have any questions, please let me know through the comments below. Questions & Asquesquesty: How can I apply to be a search engine evaluator? Answer: You can apply the websites I mentioned. You will have to go through their application process and go through to be selected. Open the website and search for search work for search engines. Question: I applied for the evaluation work on iSoftstone research engines. How would I have known that my application was accepted? Answer: You will receive an e mail about the same. If you did not receive an e mail within a few days, your application may have been rejected. How was it rejected: how can I make good money with blogging? Answer: I can write a blog post about why ☺ It is a really wide topic to cover in a few sentences. The basic idea is to take your time to build your blog using quality content in a niche with low competition. You'll need to get backlinks, and it would be really hard to do that at first. In the long run, you can notice your blog and start earning some serious money. I don't think I should mention this golden advice here, but I will anyway. I recommend choosing a really small niche as a blog to take care of your mice pets. You can promote rats related products and earn commissions. The smaller niches will be much easier to classify if you choose it wisely.
