12 tribes of israel symbols zodiac pdf.

This article is a chapter of a new book by Karmi Zor, soon to be published the first Jew, Abraham as the Bible tells us, was told by God to leave his homeland and move on to a new one. The old house was in Mesopotamia, and when he left Abraham he took notice of the stars with him. He must have used them, like all the travelers of his time, in order to find his way to Canaan, later known as the land of Israel. But Abraham did not use the stars exclusively for navigation. One of the first things he was said by the Lord was to look at the people by their own destiny. He learned that the future can be better understood by studying the multiplicity of stars. They say Abraham knew the language of the stars and that he was one of the Mesopotamian Magi. The very name Abraham contains a puzzle, because anagrams of AA Brahma are. Brahma was the creator god in Hindu tradition (or brahmin) who rose at the same time as Judah. Brahma worked as part of a three gods who performed the principle of the comic: positive, negative and neutral. Brahma was the Creator, Vishnu the preserver and Shiva the destroyer. Abraham was part of a three. Together with his two sons, Isaac and Jacob, he was the first of three parents. His son, Isaac, was of a good temper. Even his name speaks of his nice character, as literally means "He will laugh". Jacob, on the other hand, was a troublemaker. Though in his mother's womb, he revised himself his twin brother and later Jacob tricked Esau into giving him the right to inherit from his father. Later, Jacob fought an angel and defeated, and was renamed by the name of Israel, which literally means - which confronted God himself and defeated it -. Could it be that, for some reason, or more 3000 years ago, the wisdom of the three powers, the cardinal, fixed and movable, spread through the Mesopotamia both to the east and west, through a person or as an idea? In Jewish, the earthquake was accompanied by one of the four times grouping, embodied in the Four Hands: Sarah, Rebecca, Rachel and Lea. Triple patterns and figures like these are the kind of thing that cheers the hearts of astrology lovers. The triple and fourth of the creators here have marked the beginning of the Jewish people, but there is more. Better exploring esoteric origins rich in Western culture, the unification of the three parents and four hands eventually produced a dozen descendants- the 12 children of Jacob/Israel, who were the parents of the 12 tribes of Israel. The Israeli connection to the stars continued with Joshua, One of Jacob's 12th children. The family tradition continued, telling the Egyptian pharaoh the coming celestial events and thus became the nearest and most trusted astronomer of the Pharaoh. It is said that in the Book of Numbers when the number of people in each of the twelve tribes counted, it actually represents the relevant number of stars in the constellation of the associated zodiac. Each of the 12 tribes of Israel is associated with a constellation of the zodiac: Gad Taurus is Ephraim Gemini to Menashe Cancer Issachar Leo Judea Virgo Naphtali Libra to Asher Scorpio to Dan Sagittarius to Benjamin Capricorn to Zon Aquarius Pisces of the tribes, or the essence of the 12 constellations, appeared in the leatherhood of the great priesthood to guide their way as they led the people. The Bible is full of riddles, clues and hints of the meaning and rich of debris from the 12th tribes. In Jacob's he blessed his 12 children (G In the 49, he describes Dan as a snake that bites the rider's leg. The snake, of course, is the symbol of Scorpio, and the knight is Sagittarius. And in fact, the part of the Scorpion constellation that will invade the kingdom of Sagittarius also. They're known as the Serpentine. Later on Jacob portrays Judea as a lion (Leo) and Ephraim as a bull. The lovers of esoteric astrology might be interested in taking a look at the Of the places of the twelve Israeli tribes around the tabernacle during the journey to the Holy Land (Book of Numbers, 2): To the east: Jud e o-Judeo, Issachar and Zebulun camp; To the south... the camp of Reuben- Reuben, Simeon and Gad; To the west: Ephraim, Manasseh and Benjamin camp to the north: Dan- Dan, Asher and Naphtali camp. Let's start with the significant partition for four sets of three. The leaders of each camp represent the four cardinal signs: Leo (Judea), Aquarius (Reuben), Bull (Ephraim) and Scorpio (Dan). When we set up the camps, we found these sets: Leo, Cancer and Capricorn Aquarius, Fish and Africa, Tours, Gemini and Sagittarius Scorpio, Libra and Virgo Aquarius lead their two following signs, the Scorpion leads its two earlier signs, and Leo and Taurus lead the two opposing signs that together mark a cross in the zodiac. The Capricorn and Cancer line marks the Earth's inclination between Capricorn's Tropic and Tropical Circus, and the line between Sagittarius and Gemini is the area of the dog in which our Milky Way galaxy can be seen. The most observant too I will note that the Old Testament can be read as the story of the Taurus age to the age of Nurries. This transition well described in the story of the Israelites fleeing Taurian Egypt and moving to the mastery of the god Ram. As they fled Egypt, the Israelites marked their houses with the blood of a lamb. In Judaism, the sacrifice of a lamb taken as a first day, when Isaac killed a lamb instead of his son, and even Today the most sacred days are announced for blowing up a sheep's horn. While awaiting the ten commandments, the Israelites could no longer wait for the word of the new Lord, and in their haste they tried to build a golden calf, a small bull that held the essence of their previous taurian tradition. And there is more: in the description of the twelve tribes, or the twelve We are, almost hear the echo of fear and wonder as they see the constellation Taurus slowly disappear from its known position, and rises take their place. For the ancient Jews it must have seemed that the very own They were changing us. In the Book of Numbers as if the writer was obsessed with counting the numbers of people in each tribe over and over again. In some tribes the numbers grow while others decrease. Perhaps what we are reading is the need to constantly check the number of stars in each constellation, as time passed the reas of the dog us that used to relate to the known seasons slowly changed with the gradual slip of the precessment of the equinoxes. Ephraim the Bull is related to the bull with the horns of a ram as the two constellations began to merge into each other. And perhaps the description of the snake bite on the knight's leg describes the appearance of the end of the Scorpion when Sagittarius was supposed to be resurrected? Unfortunately, today, astrology is considered a sin by Orthodox Jews. It is said that the prophecy of the stars is a Gentile tradition that has no place in Judaism. But Jewish astrology is far from dead. It prevails in the esoteric tradition The rich Jewish Cabal, and the yarns of the enormous astrological influence on this rich heritage are still incorporated even in the most Orthodox writings. Each religious Jew prays once for months on the moon, on full moon nights, and the Jewish lunar months are still intimately related to the constellation traditionally seen in them.
