Touch the icon and a smart aspect menu will be displayed directly on the screen. It is a very nice app with a beautifully designed interface and dedicated knobs to adjust the thrust levels. Apart from this there is not much for the app, it does what it promises and does not offer a wide range of functionality to confuse. However, while you go super strong, you will find that the sound coming out of your speakers is a bit distorted. This is understandable, artificially increasing the volume will decrease the quality and there is nothing that the app can do to correct it. Download from Google Play.
